At the city court room this evening at 7 o'clock a number of men interested in the proposal to start a public deer park in Barre will assemble to receive suggestions from anyone who has anything to offer. The meeting is called for an early hour that all who wish may attend the British recruiting rally in the opera house at 8 o'clock.

John Sowles of Beckley hill has received word that his son, Lieut. Horace K. Sowles of the medical reserve, who has been stationed at the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston, has been ordered to report to the Rockefeller institute for special training. Later he will be assigned to duty at Camp Devens.

Paving cutters of Concord, N. H., and Milford, N. H., are on strike according to advices which have reached Barre. At Concord the cutters abandoned work April 1 because their employers did not meet their demands, and on the same day paving cutters of Milford having asked for a 20 per cent increase, laid down their tools. Negotiations looking toward a settlement in each place are in progress.

Rotogravure pictures reproduced in a number of magazines and newspapers include a group picture taken in New York City, where a large number of Hebrews, pledged to service with the British forces in Palestine, were "caught" by the photographer. In the center of the picture is Lieut. Pierre Chesler of the British recruiting mission, who was at the head of a recruiting mission which visited Barre last winter.

If maple sugar makers in central Vermont are to be repaid for the time and money expended in getting their orchards and apparatus ready for the sap season more snow or rain must be forthcoming, according to a well known Barre Town sugar maker who marketed a small quantity of maple products in the city today. At present sap in the maples is going neither up nor down, and work in the woods is practically at a standstill. The unremitting efforts of the wind may dry up the trees in a few days, it is feared, but a steady rain, or better still, a snowstorm, would work to the advantage of the farmers. Considerable sugar and syrup were made last week when the only hindrance to a heavier flow of sap was the wind. Thus far farmers who were early in the woods have not made much more than a pound to a tree.

One of the most enjoyable social gatherings of the winter and spring season at Vincenza lodge of Pythians was held in the rooms of the fraternity last evening. There was a musical program and dancing, and the attendance was large. Local musicians contributed to a fine program and in every instance the entertainer was heartily applauded. The work of the soloists, vocal and instrumental, was a revelation to the audience, and a number of the younger musicians received a very friendly reception. The program was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Grace Parry; vocal solo, Cleora Morse; piano solo, Miss Maude Bowman of Roundup; piano solo, Harry Clark. Afterward there was dancing, with music by Carroll's orchestra. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served. W. W. Parry, chancellor, and James Robertson, vice-chancellor, of Vincenza lodge, were in charge of the affair.

Trench life as it was experienced by men who came to realize the stern realities of war will be reviewed at the opera house this evening at 8 o'clock when Capt. Louis Keene of the Canadian army, and Lieut. Clark of a Scottish regiment are to tell of their observation along the western battle front. Two reels of war pictures will be shown as a part of the program whereby the British officers hope to interest British-Americans in the recruiting drive that is proceeding the conscription of British subjects in America. Frank G. Howland will preside, and there will be music by the Barre Pipe and Drum band. Soldiers and sailors in uniform are to be seated on the stage. To-day members of the recruiting mission gave out the following statement: "Any men enlisted today in the recruiting drive will go to Canada and get to France in time to fight this summer. He may even get there in time to take part in the battle, which is now going on and which will continue to go on, possibly for several months with various pauses. The nearest recruiting office in Vermont and New Hampshire is at Manchester, N. H., where a man who offers his services will have the cost of his railway journey refunded him."

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the members of Victor lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., Graniteville, who sent me the Easter card shower. I appreciate it very much, for it shows there are a few away back in the East who still think kindly of me.

A Few Timely Suggestions

Every day now brings us nearer to the days we will want to spend in the open. Nature will soon be clothed in her spring and summer beauty. We shall be prepared to get out in the open and enjoy her charms. Our wash goods department is appealing to many. Have you looked over our line and made your selection? We are anxious to show you the many new and popular cloths; you will be more than pleased with the line. The reception voiles are indeed very beautiful; they make up almost as nice as silks. You will find a large range of patterns. Palm Beach cloths are a good cloth for a medium weight dress or skirt. See those cotton foulards, silk embroidered voiles and Scotch ginghams for a good wash goods. We are showing a large line of tub silks. These are just what you want for a summer tub silk waist. We are selling lots of these silks for men's shirts.

SELF-REDUCING

NEMO CORSETS are famous for the good lines they give. There are models to "round out" the angular form, as well as models to reduce the figure that is too stout.

NEMO BRASSIERES are equally efficient in their service. They take away that ridge at the top of the corset, smooth down shoulder flesh and model the bust beautifully. They are self-adjusting to every figure—

"Fit as You Fasten"

Nemo Corsets—$3.00 and up.

Nemo Brassieres—$1.00, $1.50, and up.

We have been very busy in our Millinery Department. Our line of popular Ready-Made Hats has appealed to the trade because of the large assortment of the snap and individuality which they possess. Here you will find a large and varied line of the newest and best popular Hat models, ready for you to wear. Notice how well they are made and the quality of Hat and materials.

Rev. F. L. Goodspeed of Amherst, Mass., will be the preacher at both morning and evening services at the Congregational church next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Goodspeed was born a Vermontor and received his preparatory education at Montpelier seminary, and will be remembered by several Barre men who attended school with him. He has successfully held large pastorates in Springfield, Mass., and later in California.

Cognizant of the fact that the city council is determined to have him quit the city limits with his house on spokes, Everett Hood, who lately anchored his family on the Wells-Lamson property at North Barre has begun negotiations for a resumption of his squatter rights in the town of Ferris. To-day Mr. Hood represented to City Attorney Wishart his determination to move across the river to Berlin, and at the same time indicated his desire to re-establish his residence among the murmuring pines north of the Central Vermont yard limits, where he formerly lived. In the past three months Mr. Hood has made unsuccessful attempts to settle in Barre, Orange and Waits River.

Past matrons and past patrons of Ruth chapter, O. E. S., occupied the chairs at a special meeting of the chapter last evening, when one of the largest gatherings in several years took part in the ceremonial. Two candidates were given the degree and past officers acquit themselves creditably in conferring the work, which was witnessed by many Eastern Stars. Mrs. Sadie Roberts acted as worthy matron, and James R. Coutts as worthy patron, the associate matron's chair being occupied by Mrs. Abbie Stone. After the ceremonial there was a social hour and the entertainment committee served light refreshments.

Pleasant Recital Given Last Evening.

A pleasant recital was given last evening in the Congregational church by Miss Freda Ladd, assisted by Miss Madeline Macdonald and Miss Katharine Young. Many of the young ladies' friends were present and the program was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Ladd is a pupil of Miss Blanche Spaulding of this city and the charming manner in which her piano selections were given, the expression with which they were rendered and her excellent execution, were proofs both of the ability of the pupil and the thoroughness of instruction received.

The program was as follows: "Sonata Pathetique, Grave, Allegro, Adagio" (Beethoven), "Nachtstuck Op 23" (Schumann), "Splendid" (Littoff), Freda Ladd; reading, selected, Madeline Macdonald; "Romance, Op 28" (Schumann), "Kammerei Ostraw" (Rubinstein), "Autonne" (Chaminade), Freda Ladd; song, "Hark! the Robins' Early Song" (Lynes), Katharine Young; "Waltz, Op. 34, No. 1" (Chopin), Freda Ladd; reading, selected, Madeline Macdonald; "Ballet, Op. 47" (Chopin), Freda Ladd.

The Sanitary Dangers from Domestic Pets.

A report on an epidemic of virulent smallpox in one of the southwestern states, submitted to the surgeon-general of the public health service by one of the officers of that corps, sets forth with renewed emphasis the role that domestic pets may play in the transmission of disease, especially among children. The instance cited was that of a fatal case of smallpox of an infant in arms. The nearest case of the disease was in a house a block or so distant, and although the two families had no social relations, this apparently did not deter a dog belonging to the infected family from dividing his attention impartially between the two homes, eating at one place and sleeping at the other.

In no other way could the source of the infection be explained, than that the dog fondled by the children of the smallpox family carried the virus of the disease to the neighbor's baby. Similar instances have been noted before in connection with smallpox transmission, and cats and dogs both have been incriminated as carriers of plague infected fleas—cases of bubonic plague so contracted having been observed by public health service officers working in recent plague epidemics. The same household pets also have been charged in certain instances with the responsibility of carrying the infection of diphtheria, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases of children, as well as various intestinal parasites.

A disease that annually causes more than 100 deaths in this country is rabies, and the role of domestic animals in spreading this disease is definitely proven, speculation or circumstantial evidence being discarded.

Altogether, therefore, it is perfectly evident that the citizen who keeps domestic pets maintains at the same time a very potential source of danger; a sanitary menace to his own household and to that of his neighbor. While this aspect of the subject applies year in and year out, it may well behoove the city dweller in these times of urgent demand for food conservation seriously to take counsel with himself as to whether he is justified in continuing to keep his dog or his cat, both of which are casual sources of mental annoyance to neighbors, as well as agents for graver potentialities.
